

Plays for the 21st Century

As a service to those who consume legal services, we at Faustian Enterprises, being one of the greatest sources of legal practices since the beginning of time, feel it incumbent upon us to assist such consumers understand why it is that putting the devil in the detail causes such a bad reputation for practitioners of this blackest of black arts.

For this reason, we have commissioned a series of plays around the theme of " A TALE OF TWO LAWYERS "; obviously, no one could possibly be as obnoxious as these two invented characters, could they ??

As the picture above suggests, our two legal protagonists spend time in harassing each other in court and then avoiding each as much as possible. These plays bear no resemblance to reality and the characters are not based on anyone alive or dead.

Finally, we at Faustian Enterprises consider we have a great track record in training lawyers to put the devil in the detail; history only records three honest lawyers; two were executed by the State and one was assassinated in a theatre. It is to the one who was assassinated in the theatre that these plays are dedicated, to remind all our graduates that being honest can be fatal.
