

Slash and Burn - Environmental Ecologists

We passionately believe that the built environment, such as that shown above, is infinitely to be preferred to the so called natural environment, which is full of nasties such as native flora and fauna .

Our motto : -

" If it is above the ground, chop it down; if it moves shoots it. "

As dedicated built environment conservationists and winners of the 2008 Global Award for reducing the threat of natural environments, we look forward to helping you reduce further the threat of the natural environment.

Thank you for the opportunity of sharing our approach with you.
